Don Theodore Haynes, Sr.

Don Theodore Haynes, Sr., was born in Corsicana, Texas in 1911. He attended public schools in Corsicana and went on to attend Texas College where he received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1937. He would go on to attend Texas A&I University, University of California- Los Angeles, and in 1951, receive a masters degree at Wayne State University (Michigan).

While a student at Texas College, he and friends founded the first college band for the school. They played for college related activities as a means of earning scholarships and defraying school expenses. After his college career, the band remained together and performed professionally as a dance orchestra, performing in mostly the south and mid- west states. The group was called- Ted Haynes and the Rose City Entertainers. One music critic in Jackson, Tennessee, wrote in 1938, "Ted Haynes and his Rose City Entertainers, 15 college boys who came up from Texas like a tornado to give the swing fans and jitterbugs the surprise of their lives, is taking the South by storm. Haynes has developed a style that is very unique and they swing in the style of the big name attractions. Their style is a cross between Basie and Lunceford."

When asked about fond memories of his musical past, Mr. Haynes recalls that his newly formed dance band of college buddies, embarked on a tour of some of the major cities. Their contracts called for the band to receive 60% of the dance receipts, and the promoters kept 40%.

At what was to have been one of their major performances, the band's share of the receipts was divided equally among 15 members and the bus driver, which came to a grand total of 14 cents for each of them.

Needless to say it was a bad night for a sensational -- Big Band.

For his first teaching assignment (1941), Mr. Haynes accepted a position as Band Director and teacher in a public school in Schulenburg, Texas. His next assignment was with the La Grange School District where he served as Band Director, Athletic Coach, Teacher and Bus Driver. This position proved challenging in that Mr. Haynes not only had to coordinate half time performances but also had to plan strategies for the football team which, by the way, won all of its games.

In 1943, during World War II, Mr. Haynes was drafted into the U.S. Army and assigned to the 93rd division military band, performing military ceremonies and related activities. After military service, Mr. Haynes returned to teaching and Band Directing, this time in Corpus Christi Public Schools. Mr. Haynes was the band director and history teacher at Solomon M. Coles High School for 22 years.

When public school integration came, in the late 1960s, he was assigned to other schools in the Corpus Christi school system. After retiring in 1976, Mr. Haynes did some part time teaching and substituting in the Gregory-Portland, Tuloso-Midway and West Oso school districts.

In 1986, Mr. Haynes joined the Veterans Band of Corpus Christi. The group is very active having had more than 1200 performances since it was formed in 1984. The Veterans Band has performed for Veteran Hospitals, Military Ceremonies and the dedication ceremony of the Viet Nam War Memorial in Washington. Other prestigious appearances include the Inauguration Parade of Governor Ann Richards, in Austin, and Inaugural Parades for President George Bush and President Bill Clinton, in Washington D.C.

Mr. Haynes has two children, Don Haynes, Jr. band director at LBJ High School of Austin, and Lorna Barnes, of Tulsa Oklahoma, and five grandchildren. He is a dedicated member of ST. Matthew Baptist Church where he serves as a trustee. He is tremendously respected in the Corpus Christi community where he has taught and been a marvelous inspiration for decades.

Mr. Haynes was honored as an inductee into the Black Music Educators Hall of Fame in 1997.

When responding to the question about his life, Mr. Haynes says confidently, "God has been good to me".

New Swing Band Takes Southland

JACKSON, Tenn., Aug. 25—Ted Haynes and his Rose City Entertainers, 15 college boys who came up from Texas like a tornado to give the swing fans and jitterbugs the surprise of their lives, is taking the South by storm.

This unit, unknown to the promoters and dance goers of this section, is proving to be the "swing" sensation of the year as they get in the groove in a manner that is very surprising to critics and musicians everywhere they play.

Haynes has developed a style that is very unique and they swing in the style of the big name attractions. Their style is a cross between Basie and Lunceford. They play riff numbers on the Basie style and fall into sweet tunes on the style of Lunceford.

The unit carries as featured artists, Artie Paul who sends them solid with his hard hitting trumpet; Charles Sherrell, solid on the bass violin and the wonderful voice of Charles Smith.

Dear Mr. Haynes,

All too often we are so quick to criticize and so lax in expressing appreciation. I want you to know how much I appreciate the fine work you are doing in your ninth grade history class.

My son Jody seems to really look forward to the time spent in your class. He has become more interested in current events and often discusses interesting subjects you have brought out with the family in the evenings.

Jody takes great pride in school accomplishments and tries very hard to maintain his "All A" record. He appreciated your letting him bring special reports to improve his grade.

We are thankful for men of your dedication and fine work in such an important profession as teaching. You help shape the future, which is our youth. Thank you.

Sincerely,

P.S. Please do not mention this letter to Jody, it might be embarrassing for him.

Magnificent show

On behalf of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, I want to express our gratitude to the city of Corpus Christi for sharing the Veterans Band of Corpus Christi with all of the veterans and their families here in our nation's capital.

Veterans Day 1994 at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial will forever be remembered as our Salute to Hispanic Veterans, and proudly represented by the band and color guard. Along with such important dignitaries as Gil Coronado, director of the Selective Service System, and Henry Cisneros, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, the Veterans Band of Corpus Christi presented a magnificent show to those lucky enough to be in the audience at the Wall.

We have heard nothing but praise for the Veterans Band's performance. Absolutely everyone in attendance was overwhelmed by the professionalism and precision of the band and the color guard. Equally striking was the heartfelt tableau of their stately but dramatic Table of Remembrance. Corpus Christi could not ask for better or more patriotic ambassadors of goodwill than the Veterans Band. Any city would be proud to have them as their citizens.
