HUDLER JR. HIGH MONAHANS

JERRY FINNELL HONORED -- Director of the three - time Sweepstake winning Hudler Junior High Band, Jerry Finnell, was honored at the Awards Assembly of Hudler Wednesday. Finnell teaches band students from the sixth through the eighth grades and instills in them a desire and the ability to win top honors at an early age. He was presented a gift of appreciation from parents of his band students.

Plano bands receive top marks at contest

Marching bands from Vines and Clark high schools were awarded I and II ratings, respectively, at a recent UIL Region III contest at Garland Memorial Stadium.

The Vines band, under the direction of Jerry Finnell and Mike Stubbs, was commended by judges for its "excellent mature sound" and "very clean marching." The band consists of 132 marching band members, 12 flag corps members and two drum majors.

The Clark band, competing in UIL competition for the first time, has 69 members and one drum major, and is directed by Jerry Thomas and Carol Ann Knowles.

The marching bands from Williams High School and Plano Senior High also received high honors at the contest.

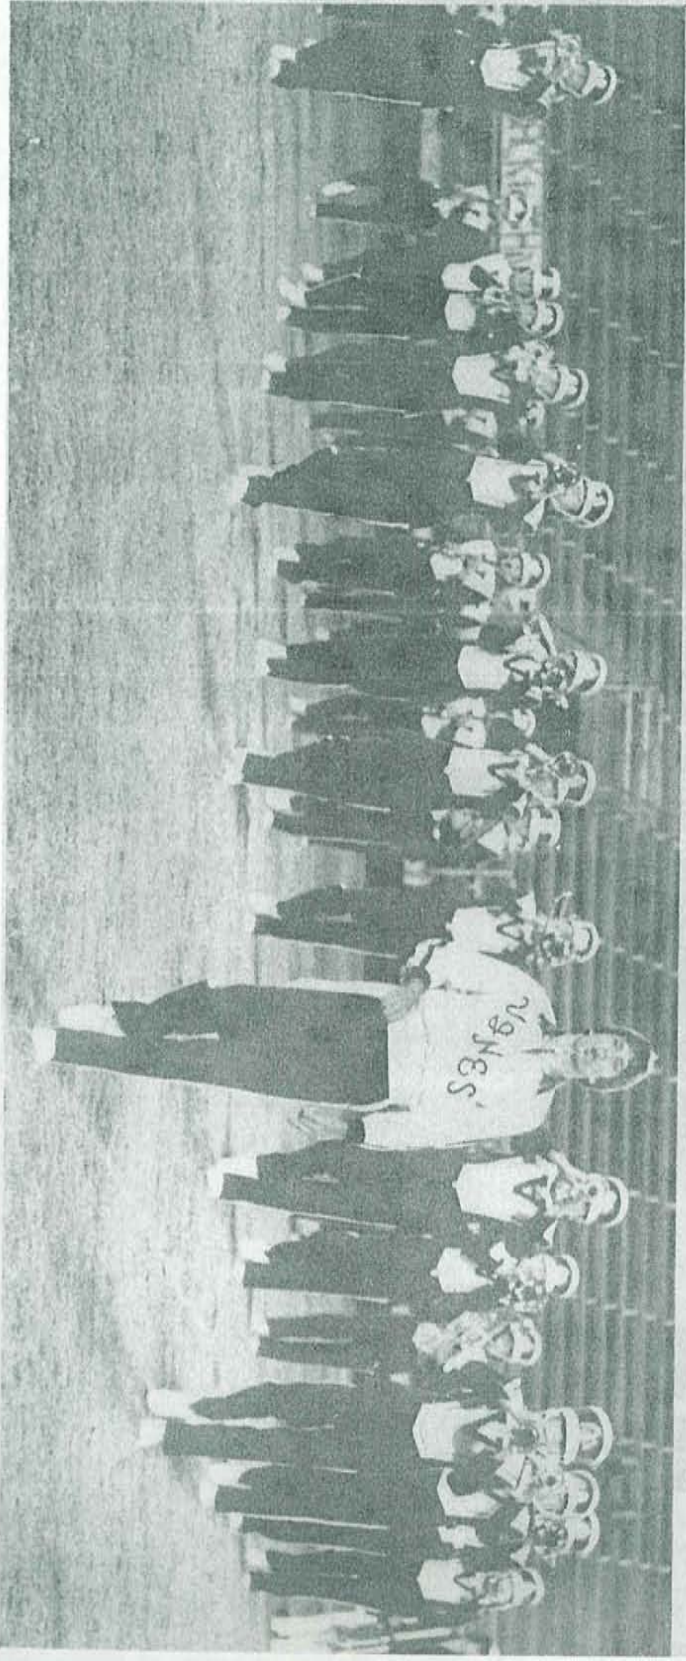

The 80-member band from Williams, including two drum majors and eight people in the flag line, was awarded a II rating. They are directed by James Vandiver and Terry Curry.

The PSHS band, under the direction of Charles E. Forgue and Cindy L. Scott, received a I rating and favorable comments on the "well designed show" and "good mature musical band."

The Vines High School Marching Band, complete with flag corps, is keeping the winning tradition alive as are all other high school bands in Plano. The Viking band recently received a first division rating at a UIL contest. Other local bands scored well, too. (Staff photos by Mike Newmann).

Musical moment

Members of the Vines High School Marching Band take part in the second annual Band Night held Monday at Clark Field. Bands from all over the Plano Independent School District took part in the musical performance, which was held for friends and families of the band members.

Top rating

For the 16th straight year, the Vines High School Marching Band earned a Superior I rating in the UIL Region III Marching Contest held last month at Clark Field in Plano. The region includes the
